

NEW YORK STATE RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS
AND IN-STATE TUITION UNDER NYS EDUCATION LAW

Fall 2026

NOTE: This memo provides general guidance regarding qualifying for in-state tuition at the CUNY School of Law. It is based on and controlled by the “Residency” section of the City University of New York Tuition and Fee Manual. Please review Section IV “Residency” in the Tuition and Fee Manual, particularly “Rules Relating to Establishing Residence in New York” in Section IV, Part I (A). The “University Tuition and Fee Manual” is available at <https://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/legal-affairs/university-tuition-fee-manual/>

To initially qualify for New York State Resident Rate tuition, or to change from Non-Resident Rate Tuition to Resident Rate tuition, students must complete the CUNY Residency Form, which is described below. In order to have financial aid accurately computed for disbursement during the Fall 2026 Semester, the CUNY Residency Form must be submitted to the registrar's office together with documentation NO LATER THAN June 12, 2026. (Note that although the last day to apply for the resident tuition rate for Fall 2026 is the last day of classes, it is advisable to apply by June 12, 2026, for financial aid purposes.) Please see page 3 below for information on NY State Education Law provisions qualifying certain non-residents, including undocumented, out of status, certain non-resident students including students who received a NY State high school or GED degree, for resident rate tuition.

Qualifying for New York State Resident Tuition

To qualify for the senior college resident tuition rate, a student must

- - be a U.S. citizen, permanent resident or in a qualifying immigration status;
- - and must have continuously maintained his/her principal place of abode in the State of New York for a period of at least twelve (12) consecutive months immediately preceding the first day of classes;
- - and have a bona fide intention of living in New York permanently.

Tuition and Fee Manual (Section IV, Part I (A)).

A student may also qualify for a resident rate of tuition if she/he qualifies pursuant to New York State Education Law Section 6206(7) (a) (it), (ii) or (iii), including undocumented and out of status students, and certain non-residents. (See Tuition and Fee Manual, Section IV – Part I (B) for further explanation.)

Registering to vote in New York a minimum of twelve (12) months prior to the first day of the semester, having a New York State Driver's License or New York State "non-driver license" dated a minimum of twelve (12) months prior to the first day of the semester, and filing a New York State Resident Income Tax Return covering a period a minimum of twelve (12) months prior to the first day of the semester, are among persuasive factors in a residency determination by the Law School.

Students Under Age 24

Generally, the state of residency of a dependent student under the age of 24 is considered the same as that of his or her custodial parent(s) or legal guardian(s). Students aged 24 and older are considered independent and are not deemed to have the same state of residency as their parent(s) or legal guardian(s). Under a policy effective beginning the Spring 2014 semester, a student under the age of 24 whose parent(s) or legal guardian(s) reside out of state, who otherwise meets CUNY's residency requirements and is not financially independent from his/her parents, is eligible for the resident tuition rate if the student can show that he/she has changed his/her domicile, i.e. the place that he/she has a bona fide intention of living permanently, to New York State. Such a showing must be made by clear and convincing evidence.

Students under 24 who claim that New York is their domicile should carefully review "Rules Relating to Establishing Residence in New York" set forth in Section IV, Part I of the Tuition and Fee Manual, <http://www2.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/legal-affairs/university-tuition-fee-manual/iv-residency/>

Applying for NY State Resident Rate Tuition - - The City University Residency Form

In all cases where a determination needs to be made as to whether a student is eligible for resident tuition, the student must complete The City University Residency Form. Part A of the Form needs to be completed by all students; Part B of the Form needs to be completed by students who are undocumented or out-of-status immigrants who are seeking resident tuition based on high school attendance/graduation or having received a GED in New York; and Part C needs to be completed by students who are seeking to be classified as New York State Residents.

The City University Residency Form is attached to this informational memo and is also available at: <http://www2.cuny.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/4/page-assets/about/administration/offices/legal-affairs/university-tuition-fee-manual/residency-form1.pdf>
